Four Killed as Airliner Crashes In New York

Mexican Craft Falls After Takeoff; 26 Persons Injured

NEW YORK (AP)—A jet airliner crashed Thursday night seconds after taking off in a wind-whipped snowstorm. The huge ship's speed sent it slamming across a highway, clipping an auto and skidding in flames into a marsh.

Of the 106 persons reported aboard, 102 escaped death, although at least 26 were injured, several critically.

The dead tentatively were identified as four of the eight crew members — three men and the woman purser. Sixty-one of the 98 passengers aboard the four-engine airliner are residents of the United States.

Bound for Mexico City

The airliner, a DC8B of Aeromexico, went down at 8:25 p.m. It was bound nonstop for Mexico City.

One survivor, G. Terry Sechrist of Farmington, Conn., said the plane got about 50 feet in the air, then skidded down. Other survivors weren't certain if the plane ever got off the ground.

Idlewild Airport observers said the $3-million craft had to get aloft to clear a concrete fence at the end of the runway. The plane did hit a wire fence just beyond the concrete barrier. Sections of the wire fence were embedded in the wreckage. The front section of the plane became enveloped in flames.

The Civil Aeronautics Board and the Federal Aviation Agency began on-the-scene investigations in an attempt to learn the cause of the crash.

Check Pilot Critical

The one person aboard who might have the answer is William B. Poe, 52, of Miami, Fla., check pilot aboard the plane. But Poe's condition early today at St. Joseph's Hospital in Queens was described as "still critical."

Noting that the plane took off in a blinding snowstorm with winds up to 25 miles per hour, Rep. Steven B. Derouanian, R-N.Y., said in a statement from Washington:

"Next week I will introduce some legislation to make it mandatory that no takeoff or landings of planes will be allowed unless visibility is 2.5 miles and the minimum ceiling is 2,500 feet."

Visibility at the time of the crash was a quarter of a mile, and the ceiling about 300 feet.

Derouanian is a member of the House subcommittee on transportation and aeronautics.

Police Identify Bodies

Police tentatively identified the bodies found in the wreckage as those of Capt. Ricardo Gonzales, the pilot; First Officer Antonio Ruiz Bravo; Second Officer Javier Alvarez Bacha; and Gloria Sanchez Herrejon, the purser.

When the plane finally halted, passengers leaped through exit doors and smashed windows and fled in all directions in the sub-freezing temperature.

Many were picked up by passing motorists and driven back to the airport or taken to hospitals.

The DC8B is the same type plane involved in the crash last month over Staten Island, killing 134 persons in history's worst commercial aviation disaster. A United Air Lines jet and a Trans World Airlines piston-driven Super Constellation collided while coming in for landings.

ATTENDED MEETING

The name of Councilman Chester Whitacre was inadvertently omitted from the article in The News Thursday about the Leetonia Council meeting held Wednesday night. Only three councilmen were mentioned, and Mayor Ralph Kennedy advises that three councilmen would not constitute a quorum necessary to legalize action taken at the session.

Farm Group Declares Infirmary Repairable

Columbiana County Farm Bureau Federation members who toured the County Home Jan. 7 reported at a federation meeting in Lisbon Wednesday night that repairs could be effected to the home to enable it to comply with state health and safety requirements.

The group inspected the home to ascertain conditions there in view of a recent condemnation order imposed against the infirmary by the state.

The report said repairing the home probably would have to be financed by a bond issue. However, it added, this would be much more economical than building a new structure.

Members declared the overall condition of the buildings is good considering their age, and the quarters being used are neat and clean.

Repairs were deemed necessary to sanitary facilities, boiler room, kitchen and buildings in general. The group said many of the repairs had been needed for a long time.

The report noted that the last Republican platform recommended that the county commissioners appoint a committee to make a survey of the home to estimate the cost of required repairs. The group urged that this be done.

Would Share Surplus Foods

The group also recommended that surplus food grown on the County Home farm be made available to other county institutions, such as the County Jail and Children's Receiving Home.

Any additional surplus should be sold, with the money going toward support of the home, the group suggested.

The members also recommended that the County Home superintendent be given authority to "clean up" some of the buildings and dispose of the worthless objects that have accumulated over the years.

JFK Urges Reds Join Peace Quest

But Puts Communist Bloc on Notice He Plans No Softening of U.S. Purpose

WASHINGTON (AP)—John F. Kennedy in his first moments as president today invited the Communist world to join in a new beginning of "the quest for peace."

After taking the oath as the nation's 35th chief executive, Kennedy said in his prepared inaugural address:

"Let us begin anew—remembering on both sides that civility is not a sign of weakness, and sincerity is always subject to proof. Let us never negotiate out of fear. But let us never fear to negotiate."

He said, "Let both sides explore what problems unite us instead of belaboring the problems that divide us."

United States Does Not Dare Become Weak

Kennedy said the United States does not dare tempt the adversary nations by allowing itself to be weak—"only when our arms are sufficient beyond doubt can we be certain beyond doubt that they will never be employed."

Although Kennedy made no direct reference to the situation in Cuba, he in effect reaffirmed the Monroe Doctrine when he said:

"Let all our neighbors know that we shall join with them to oppose aggression or subversion anywhere in the Americas. And let every other power know that this hemisphere intends to remain the master of its own house."

In a call for Western unity, he said, "We dare not meet a power-

"Let both sides, for the first time, formulate serious and precise proposals for the inspection and control of arms—and bring the absolute power to destroy other nations under the absolute control of all nations."

But repeatedly he put the Communist bloc on notice that he intends no softening of American purpose.

"Let every nation know, whether it wish us well or ill," Kennedy said in the brief address setting the tone of his administration, "that we shall pay any price, bear any burden, meet any hardship, support any friend or oppose any foe in order to assure the survival and success of liberty."

He pledged to help underdeveloped nations to help themselves "not because the Communists are doing it, but because it is right."

To his own fellow-citizens Kennedy said, "ask not what your country will do for you—ask what you can do for your country."

As for himself, he said "in the long history of the world, only a few generations have been granted the role of defending freedom in its hour of maximum danger."

"I do not shrink from this responsibility—I welcome it. I do not believe that any of us would exchange places with any other person or any other generation."

Will Light Nation and All Who Serve It

"The energy, the faith and the devotion which we bring to this endeavor will light our country and all who serve it—and the glow from that fire can truly light the world."

Kennedy, at 43 the youngest man ever elected president, said he knows neither he nor anyone else alive today may live to see "the new world of law" he envisions.

But "let us begin," he said, by trying to achieve "a beach-head of cooperation . . . in the jungles of suspicion."

The note he sounded during his campaign, of young men setting out again to push back a frontier, echoed throughout a speech devoted in almost every word to the problems that haunt a peace-seeking world, rather than to domestic issues.

"Let the word go forth," he proclaimed early in the address, "that the torch has been passed to a new generation of Americans—born in this century, tempered by war, disciplined by a cold and bitter peace, proud of our ancient heritage, and unwilling to witness or permit the slow undoing of those human rights to which this nation has always been committed."

Then the new President made these pledges to the peoples outside the Iron Curtain—pledges, as contrasted with what he termed his "request" for a joint effort with the other camp:

Dare Not Meet Challenge Split Asunder

To "old Allies whose cultural and spiritual origins we share . . . the loyalty of faithful friends . . . we dare not meet a powerful challenge at odds and split asunder."

To the states emerging from colonial status, "our word that one form of colonial control shall not have passed merely to be replaced by a far more iron tyranny."

To these same states assurance that "we shall not always expect to find them supporting our every view," but a bit of advice too: "In the past, those who foolishly sought to find power by riding on the tiger's back inevitably ended up inside."

"To those peoples in the huts and villages of half the world struggling to break the bonds of mass misery . . . our best efforts to help them help themselves . . . not because the Communists are doing it, not because we seek their votes, but because it is right. If the free society cannot help the many who are poor, it can never save the few who are rich."

To the other American republics that "a special pledge—to convert our good words into good deeds in a new alliance for progress—to assist free men and free governments in casting off the chains of poverty. But this peaceful revolu-

Snowstorm Light Here, Packs Wallop In East

New-fallen snow today covered what remained of the previous heavy snow in the Salem district, but it was only a light touch as compared to a fast-moving snowstorm that dealt a crippling blow to many cities in the New York to Washington, D.C., region.

Accompanying yesterday's two-inch snowfall here were cold temperatures, the mercury tumbling steadily during the night to near zero. A low of minus-two was recorded at the city sewage treatment plant northwest of town.

Temperatures varied throughout the county, too, with a 7-below reading noted at the Lisbon water works station and 4-above at the county weather station at the Edwin Copeland farm at Millport.

The prediction today was for continued cold with snow flurries. The storm in the East yesterday slowed inaugural ceremonies in Washington.

The storm reached blizzard proportions during the night along the East Coast from Philadelphia northeastward into southern New England.

Snow piled up to more than a foot in some areas. Winds were clocked at 47 m.p.h. along coastal sections. Gale warnings were posted along the coast from Delaware Bay northward to coastal areas of Maine. Sub-zero cold stung sections of the Northeast and Midwest.

The storm dumped more than six inches of snow on the overcrowded nation's capital, sharply curtailing Thursday night's pre-inaugural festivities. The fresh snow piled new woes on New

Ambulance Crash Hurts Six

11 Are Injured In Area Traffic Mishaps

Eleven persons were injured out of a total of seven accidents that occurred in the area Thursday, with six casualties resulting from an ambulance - auto mishap in Youngstown.

Youngstown police reported that a speeding Youngstown Fire Department ambulance collided with an auto operated by Sam Byo, 37, of Struthers, at 9:20 p.m. at the intersection of Market St. and Woodland Ave.

The ambulance driver, Dominic Lucarelli, 33, of Youngstown, and the fire department said that the light at the intersection was red as he approached it but turned green just before the collision occurred.

After the mishap, Lucarelli said, he was knocked off his seat and the ambulance veered into the south bound lane of traffic. The ambulance went out of control after the impact, Lucarelli reported.

Besides striking the Byo auto, the ambulance struck cars driven by Mrs. Nicolina Lamarca, 46; John Sarackman, 48; Theodore Pappas, 22; and Mrs. Eileen Burns, 52, all of Youngstown.

Injured in the mishap were the following: Lucarelli, possible fractured ribs, right tibia and left scapula; John Zamany, 27, of Youngstown, a fireman in the ambulance, a mild concussion; John Williams, 47, of Youngstown, a fireman in the ambulance, abrasions of the chin and possible fractured elbow; William W. Ohio Supplies Leader of Elite Old Guard In Inaugural March

WASHINGTON (AP)—Ohio supplied the leader of an elite Army battle group in today's inaugural parade for President John F. Kennedy.

Lt. Col. William C. Beachler of Lima, Ohio, headed the 500-man group known as the Old Guard, oldest active infantry unit in the Army.

This group, marching in the Presidential Division and containing some 50 Ohio soldiers, traces its lineage back to the Continental Congress of 1784.

As it happens, one of its first major battles—in 1794—was the Battle of Fort Recovery in Ohio, which took place in the area of Beachler's home city of Piqua.

In another part of the parade line was the Ohio float. This featured a lake freighter model being towed by a model of a self-powered Ohio River boat.

The idea here was to stress the potential of the St. Lawrence Seaway to northern Ohio and of the Ohio River as a commercial waterway to the South and East.

On the back of the Ohio float was a schoolboy patrolman, illustrating the fact that Columbus, Ohio, originated this form of protection for school children from automobile traffic hazards.

Other Ohio contributions to the parade were the Steubenville High School Band, an 84-member organization directed by Anthony Viola, and an Ohio drill and drum corps, composed of 87 boys and girls from Toledo and Sandusky.

Leader of this corps, called the Marilynettes, is Frances White, 16, of Toledo.

There were special parties for Ohioans before, during and after the inauguration.

A breakfast for Ohio Gov. Michael V. DiSalle was scheduled for this morning by Rep. T. Ludlow Ashley, D-Ohio, a fellow Toledoan of the governor.

Rep. Michael J. Kirwan, D-Ohio, was holding a luncheon at the Occidental Restaurant on Pennsylvania Avenue. His guests planned to watch the parade from a restaurant balcony.

Then this afternoon, another reception was being held in honor of DiSalle, this one by Mayor Frank Celeste of Lakewood, Ohio.

Ohio Democrats, led by their chairman, William Coleman, also are having a party.

Most Republicans in the Ohio delegation—and they dominate it—weren't planning anything special.

But one of the new ones, Rep. Charles A. Mosher of Oberlin, put out word that his new offices in Sandusky will be inaugurated today with an all-day open house there.

"Our open house party is not intended as competition for Mr. Kennedy," Mosher assured his constituents. "We will only supplement and complement his show."

Let John F. Do It

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—The job has a big salary, a nice pension, and you get to live rent-free in a fine old house plentifully staffed with servants.

Your wife would hardly have to lift her hand—let alone her voice.

Doesn't it sound like every man's dream?

Well, every American mother's son has a born right to aspire to this wonderful job—but most of them say they wouldn't take it for love, patriotism or money. To them it isn't a dream job. It's a living nightmare.

That job is the one 43-year-old John F. Kennedy takes over today—the presidency of the United States.

A handful of professional politicians present at the inauguration may sight to themselves, "Why couldn't it have happened to me? Why shouldn't I be the one taking the oath?"

But the man in the street has no envy at all of Kennedy, and no desire for his new job. To him it would be not a boon, but an affliction. He'd rather be in his own shoes than Kennedy's.

Why doesn't the average American want his country's top political job, often hailed as the world's most powerful post?

"Too much responsibility."

"You have to make too many important decisions. The way it is now I can let my wife make the decisions. She enjoys it. I don't."

"You have to try to please too many people. Even then half of them wind up hating you."

"It makes you old too soon. Ever notice how much older a president looks after he's been in office a few years?"

"Being president just doesn't sound like it would be much fun. You spend too much time holding conferences or going to public functions. Who wants that kind of a life? It would bore me."

"You might have to decide to send the country to war. If I had a worry like that on my mind, I'd never sleep at night."

"A president isn't really free. He's a kind of a prisoner in a way. He has to be guarded all the time against crackpots. That would give me the willies."

The idea of living in the White House also appalls many ordinary American men—appealing as the prospect might be to their wives.

"It's too big," said one. "It'd be like living in a railroad terminal. It wouldn't seem like home. It wouldn't be comfortable."

"And who'd want all those servants standing around listening when your wife bawled you out? Me—I like a little more privacy."

When it comes to guiding the destiny of the nation, John F. Public is more than glad to let George do it.

Or, in this case, John F.

Two Youths Get Life In Tavern Slaying

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Two Toledo youths were sentenced to life imprisonment in a dramatic courtroom scene Thursday for the slaying of a Springfield Twp. tavern owner.

The youths—Charles Smith, 20, and Daniel Lauharn, 19 — had pleaded guilty to general homicide charges and had asked Judges John M. Kelly, Ray B. Watters and Frank H. Harvey to fix the degree of their guilt.

When sentence was pronounced—after two hours of deliberation—Lauharn's sister, Brenda, 18, cried out, "No! Danny I love you!"

She was led crying and screaming from the courtroom by her father as Lauharn stood white-faced and tense before the panel of judges.

Asked if he had anything to say before he was sentenced, Lauharn said, "Well, I have a lot to say but it wouldn't do me any good so I don't have anything to say."

The sentence, following a recommendation of mercy, saved the pair from death in the electric chair under the first-degree murder verdict.

The victim, Albert Moore, 34, was slain in his tavern on South Canton Road Aug. 21 in a holdup attempt.

A third Toledo youth, Joseph McLeod, 21, also indicted for first-degree murder, is awaiting a jury trial. He is accused of driving the getaway car.

Smith was identified during the trial by two state's witnesses as the trigger man and Lauharn as his accomplice.

A motion for a new trial was overruled before Judge Kelly pronounced sentence.

Wanted Man Out Hunting Lawyer

LISBON — A former East Liverpool policeman convicted of burglary and bribery of a juror is "missing," reportedly trying to find his attorney so he will not have to go to jail on the bribery conviction. The lawyer is in Washington for the inauguration.

Ira (Nig) Cunningham, 54, left Wednesday night, his wife told Sheriff Russell J. Van Fossan when he went to Cunningham's home yesterday to pick him up.

Cunningham's notice of appeal to the Ohio Supreme Court in the bribery case was dismissed this week because his counsel had done nothing beyond filing the notice last August.

Cunningham was convicted of bribery in March, 1959 and was sentenced to 1 to 5 years in the penitentiary. He has been free under $1,500 bond pending appeal. His appeal from the burglary conviction is before the Seventh District Appellate Court.

Three Fined, Three Leave Bonds In Lisbon

LISBON—Three motorists were fined a total of $255 and costs on Thursday by County Judge James L. MacDonald on traffic charges. Three others forfeited bonds when they failed to appear for hearings.

Finer were:

Eugene P. Hoffner, 34, of Massillon, $100 and 15 days in jail for driving while under the influence of alcohol.

Thomas A. Hamilton, 53, of Salem, $150 and costs and 15 days for a similar offense.

Wilfred E. Gamble, 60, of East Rochester, suspended $25 fine for driving on an expired license and $5 for improper towing equipment.

Leaving bonds were:

Everett E. Daniels Jr., 24, of East Liverpool $10, passing on the crest of a grade.

Gene R. McGaffie, 22, of Lisbon RD 5, and Rudolph Kuriko, 23, of Northfield, each $15 for speeding. All were cited by the State Highway Patrol.

PLANS SHOPPING CENTER
CLEVELAND (AP)—A corporation headed by Cleveland home builder William Snider will begin construction immediately of a $3 million shopping center in the heart of suburban Brecksville. The development, announced Thursday, will cover a 10-acre tract on Ohio 82 just east of its intersection with U.S. 21 and adjacent to the Cleveland Metropolitan Park reservation.

Since 1953, the Weather Bureau has called tropical storms by girls' names. The list for 1960 runs from Abby to Winnie.

County Leases New Surplus Food Building

Columbiana County commissioners Thursday signed a lease with Edith and Edward Heim of N. Market St., Lisbon for a 900-square foot building to house the surplus foods department in Lisbon. The new lease will save the county $300 a year.

The building is at the rear of 537½ E. Chestnut St. It is 30 by 30 feet and was formerly used as a bus garage.

They originally signed a contract for storage in the Heim Metal Building but the owners requested that the other building be used. The first contract called for a rent of $100 a month plus heat and utilities. But the other building is $75 for rent. The county will pay for electricity used, but the Heims will pay for heat, sewage and water.

Commissioners also signed a contract with the Herron Trucking Co. of Salem to furnish a truck and driver for transportation of surplus foods from Youngstown to storage rooms and to Salem, Wellsville and East Liverpool on distribution days at a cost of $6 an hour PUCO regulations.

On the other contract Heim was to have furnished the truck and driver at a rate of $5 per hour.

The Doctor Says

By Dr. H. T. HYMAN

Medicine Tests Vary With Conditions

I have before me two reports that deal with the activities of closely related germ killers. They are contradictory. Yet each is correct. It may be important for you to understand how this is possible.

The first is a laboratory report that describes the germ-killing properties of a popular soap. It includes a most impressive chart that shows how the contained germicide prevents the growth of a large number of bacterial species, including the golden staphylococcus that's been responsible for so many hospital infections.

The second is a clinical report from Walter Reed Army Hospital. Its chart lists 11 post-operative infections, one resulting in the death of a patient, due to bacterial contamination of a solution of a related germicide.

How is it possible for both reports to be correct?

THE EXPLANATION is quite simple. The first report was based on experiments performed under ideal laboratory conditions. Bacteria and germicide were put into previously sterilized glassware and allowed to fight their battle like pugilists in a ring. When the soap manufacturers declared that their fighter was the "champ" by a knockout, they reported with complete accuracy.

The second report refers to a hospital experience in which an additional factor was innocently introduced. Quite correctly, sterilized gauze sponges were used in the germicidal solution in order to assure their continued sterility until the time came to use them to clean wounds or to prepare the unbroken skin for operation.

HOW THEN could previously sterilized gauze sponges, kept in a germicidal solution, actually be responsible for a ward infection? Here is the explanation as determined by Army investigators.

Quite unexpectedly it was found that gauze sponges absorb the germicide from solution just as a blotter will soak up water. No longer protected by the germ-killing protector, the solution became contaminated from some human source in the course of routine handling.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Day of Reckoning

Dear Ann Landers: My wife and I have been married 15 years. We have five children. The oldest is 14, the youngest 6. They are in school all day and are no trouble to her.

I think my wife should be able to get out of bed a little earlier, straighten the house, get the kids off to school and then go to work downtown. We could sure use the extra money. We have many friends who manage this way and they have new cars, boats and luxuries that we'll never be able to afford on my salary.

My wife has a washing machine and a vacuum cleaner, still she claims she's bushed from housework and laundry. I say the cost of living is so high these days it takes two pay checks if people are going to enjoy any extras. Please tell my wife to stop making excuses and to go get herself some work.—DIGUSTED.

Dear Disgusted: A woman who has five young children doesn't need to make excuses — she's got work, and plenty of it — at home.

So your wife has a washing machine and a vacuum sweeper — big deal. How would YOU like to take on another full-time job? Well, that's exactly what you're asking her to do. Quit trying to get the old mare to pull a double load and give her a hand with her present duties. She probably can use it.

we insist on grounds that this other man is ruining our reputation? — INNOCENT VICTIMS.

Dear Victims: The newspaper makes the proper distinction by printing the man's address. A newspaper can't identify an individual by stating who he is NOT.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Salem News, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Proper Identification

Dear Ann: We live in a medium-sized city. A man here who gets in to all sorts of trouble with the law has the same name as my husband. It is a terrible embarrassment to us whenever his name appears in the paper, which is often. He has been arrested for drunken driving, fighting in taverns and petty larceny.

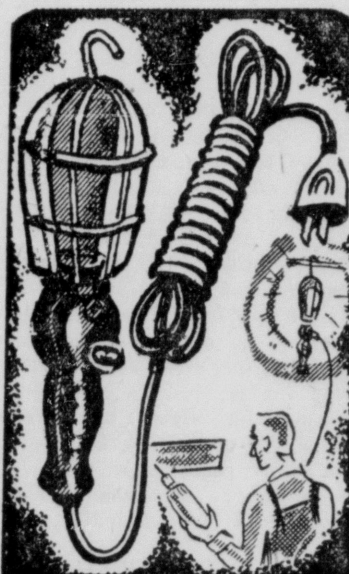

The paper prints his name and address but we feel they should also say, "Not the John Jones who is employed at the X Co." The paper refuses to do this. Can

Beneath the Tumult and Shouting

President Eisenhower has done gracefully and with his copyrighted brand of good will all the things required of him in his last days in the White House. But some of his countrymen will remember the grim passage in his final address to the country long after they have forgotten the pleasantries.

It was a warning against a danger not generally understood. Some listeners must have been puzzled by it. It was as far from the routine platitudes common at leave takings and formal farewells as anything could be. But there it was—a blunt truth beneath the tumult and shouting of Inauguration Week. The United States must fight a foe at home as well as abroad, warned Mr. Eisenhower. It must fight the growing power of a scientific-technological elite that will try to dominate public policy. Members of the elite will tend to be the top dogs in education. Colleges and universities will be hog-tied by government contracts for research and development. Education as a whole may be neglected.

At the same time, the nation's economy will be in danger of domination by the armament industry that has been developed to offset the Soviet Union's aggressive policy of meddling in the affairs of ungoverned nations.

THE MILITARY-INDUSTRIAL complex whose spending exceeds the net income of all U.S. corporations, the retiring President warned must be kept in its proper place by an alert and well-informed citizenry. Otherwise the United States may lose its liberty in the attempt to save it by counter-balancing the military strength of the Soviet Union and its allies.

These are grave doubts to be left on the White House doorstep by a departing chief executive. They are sobering thoughts to be left in the minds of his countrymen. They have implications as serious as those set in motion by George Washington when he warned his countrymen against entangling alliances.

Mr. Eisenhower has seen the evolution of a peacetime armament industry. He has seen the evolution of the "science kick" in education. He is alert to the evidence that his countrymen may be drifting into an attitude that will justify anything if it claims to be military and scientific and reject everything else.

"It is the task of statesmanship to mold, to balance and to integrate these and other forces new and old, within the principles of our democratic system—ever aiming toward the supreme goals of our free society," declares Mr. Eisenhower, summing up what he has learned.

WHEN EVERYTHING he has said as President of the United States is evaluated by historians, this thought may well be Mr. Eisenhower's greatest personal contribution to the knowledge of his day.

The United States is flirting with a degree of military materialism and scientific megalomania that could make it more Marxist than the Soviet Union, itself.

If it does not heed Dwight Eisenhower's warning, it could perish by the sword it has been forced to pick up in its defense.

Senators Can't Be Too Cautious

Robert S. McNamara seems to be willing to do anything to serve his fellow Americans as secretary of defense. He has consented to juggle his finances as much as necessary to meet the smallest criticism of the senators who want to make sure there can be no conflict of interest when he signs an order for another billion dollars' worth of defense. To meet the smallest criticism of the senators for the purity of a businessman who is being permitted to breathe the air of sanctity that hangs over Senate hearing rooms like the smoke from 50-cent cigars. But to millions of U.S. taxpayers and voters it's a little galling.

Members of the U.S. Senate who are so ultra-solicitous about conflicts of interest when outsiders come into the government are curiously callous to conflicts of interest in their own affairs.

Every senator from a southern state has a conflict of interest on every civil rights proposal—the Constitution he is sworn to uphold versus social customs back home.

Every cotton-picking senator has a conflict of interest on questions of cotton subsidies and so on through all the conflicts of interest there are. Senators own stocks and bonds. They belong to law firms with juicy corporate accounts. They not infrequently are sent to Washington and kept there for the sole purpose of grinding the ax of a special interest. Yet, no one bores in on a senator to learn in advance what might influence his decision besides objective judgment. No one makes senators plead guilty before they have been charged with misbehavior.

An Assistant Out of Range

The new President is unlikely to find merit in the retiring President's idea for an assistant president of Cabinet rank.

For the time being, Mr. Kennedy's presidential assistant is destined to be his brother Robert, who will be in the Cabinet as attorney general of the United States.

Later on, if he needs another assistant, in addition to all the men who have been with him for the last few years and have been given credit for the efficiency of his winning presidential campaign, he can be stuck into the organization of the federal government wherever a place can be found.

Franklin Roosevelt had assistants stuck all over Washington, some of them in such obscure jobs no one could say what they were supposed to do, other than work for Mr. Roosevelt when he needed them.

Mr. Eisenhower's assistant, Sherman Adams, worked in the White House with the title of assistant, though not with Cabinet rank. And it was Mr. Adams as much as anyone who let the air out of the theory that an assistant president has become a government necessity.

He was a paragon of efficiency. He had forgotten more about politics and the intricacies of government than Mr. Eisenhower was likely to learn; that was why he was on the job. He was an expert in his field. Mr. Eisenhower relied on him heavily.

That made it important for the opposition party to shoot him down, to prove to him and his party that its sharpshooters had the range of the White House. The job they did on Mr. Adams was a classic. Never has there been slicker, more lethal exploitation of the congressional inquiry as a weapon in the partisan wars.

The destruction of Mr. Adams hurt Mr. Eisenhower. It was intended to hurt him.

That's why Mr. Kennedy will be unlikely to see merit in a presidential assistant of Cabinet rank. The holder of the job would be the most visible and the most shot-at sitting duck in politics. A presidential assistant should keep out of range—where Robert Kennedy will be, he hopes.

Once Over

An imaginary letter from Walter O'Malley to Walter Alston, Dodger manager, assuring him once more that Leo Durocher as a coach should be a tranquilizing influence:

Dear Alston: Happy 1961 and many Durochers to you! This can be a year of surprises in big league baseball and you are entitled to your share. I understand you are uncomfortable with Leo breathing down your neck. This is hard to understand because he has become a humble, patient introvert, hating trouble. I have his word for it.

The picture of Leo as brassy and belligerent, always wanting to be top banana, is all wrong now. He has taken the Hollywood and Las Vegas Self-Importance cure and I don't have to tell you how those places shrink a man's vanity and make him mild and shy. You will never know him. He seldom raises his voice, hates friction and thinks baseball's slogan should be Gen. Grant's famous, "Let us have peace."

He really wanted a job with the YMCA, the Society For the Enforcement of Quiet Zones or the Little Ray of Sunshine Association. I was able to get him only on my promise I would never expect him to show aggressiveness or utter an explosive word.

(I tested him by having a voice yell, "Wan a fight, ya bum?" and all he did was smile and say "Love conquers all.")

You will have no trouble with Durocher, unless you can't stand humility. I will swear this on a stack of cash registers.

The new Durocher is a second Dag Hammarskjöld, with a touch of Billy Graham and Little Lord Fauntleroy. He will be like a tranquilizer. If I am wrong sue me. As ever, Walter.

NEW BROADWAY PLAY "Rhinos" pictures modern man as having such a tough hide and being so stupid he could double for a rhino. It's done so well that is is convincing. We heard one cash customer remarking as he left the theater "A lot of prominent rhinoceroses are here tonight."

British vicar has come out for unionized clergy. Seems fair enough. Few jobs are more important and few pay less. We are for "This Parish Unfair." "Starvation Wages Mean Starved Shepherds" and "If you're Truly Religious You'll Give Your Minister a Break" banners.

New York City vote banning proposed bowling alleys over Grand Central station knocked promoters off their "pins." But they will carry fight to Supreme Court alleys. Railroad owners of station favor Grand Central Bowling enterprise because they need the money. They think of bowling alleys as "rolling stock." Well, there is more money in running alleys than railroads and the game may become so big it will take over railroads as subsidiaries. As a commuter we are happy up the railroad station and asking what alley up the veto. We don't want the wife calling we are probably in.

Shades of Tex Rickard! "I never 'SEED' such a thing" he would exclaim if he could observe Madison Square Garden, for years the home of big fights now rented to TELECAST championship bouts. Promoters of Patterson-Johansson fight have taken over the place and expect to pack the house. Largest crowd ever in Garden was 23,190 for Armstrong-Zivic bout in 1941. Through telecasts, all over land more than 60 million people will see coming battle.

Down to the Sea in Negligence

Inside Labor By Victor Riesel

NEW YORK Some of the men who actually pour oil on the troubled waters of New York harbor drank an extra toast this last New Year's Eve to something millions strive for—a job guaranteed for life.

These men are oilers aboard railroad tugs in a skyscraper-bound bay through which passes more than 20 million tons of global cargo. Though these men "go to sea," they work for two railroads—the Erie-Lackawanna and the Long Island.

It was never the intention of these lines to give a lifetime guarantee. Rather, back in June 1959, the roads decided to wipe out every one of these jobs—and gave notice. There was no need for oilers aboard diesel engine tugs, said the railroad executives.

Thus began the story which also will be the story behind a thousand strikes to come. It is woven into the uneasiness and the toughness of labor's "new approach"—yet it is as ancient as Englishmen of old heaving rocks at new weaving spindles. It is part of labor's answer to "automation" and the wizardry of new technical equipment.

THESE "SEAGOING" oilers, THE 11 RAILROADS said that though they work for railroads, are members of teamsters Local 518—"The Marine Employees Union, Hoboken (New York Harbor), N.J." When the companies gave notice, the Teamsters struck.

The Eastern railroad industry went into the federal courts as far as the high bench. The Supreme Court sent the case back to a lower district bench. At this point the railroads and the local decided to negotiate.

After almost a year and a half they agreed that all oilers who had been on the job 20 years or more would have lifetime job security. They would never be fired or laid off.

Those who had less than 20 years seniority would be dismissed. They would get heavy severance pay. But they would lose their jobs after Jan. 1, 1961, was the agreement.

However, when the deadline passed, there were only a handful of these oilers who had not rolled up the two decades on the rail road payroll.

Under the agreement signed in December, the lines could end the jobs only if the oilers died, resigned or retired. They have their job security.

They also had set a precedent. When the deadline came for action by other harbor unions which supply crews for the harbor tugs of 11 rail lines here, the seafarers international noted this precedent well.

five crew members were too many. They wanted to drop two. The seafarers and their fellow unionists struck. But this, too, was only the beginning.

The teamsters precedent has also been noted by another labor organization—the Marine Division of the National Maritime Union which mans the regular harbor tugs. Its contract expires Feb. 1.

What has not been fully understood is that the NMU tugboat workers cover over 75 per cent of the cargo movements in the big harbor. They will make as tough a stand against floating automation as did the teamsters in '59 and the seafarers group which slowed the harbor, paralyzed trains and closed railroad stations this week.

If there is an NMU tugboat workers strike, all harbor movements will stop, it seems to me. All other unions—regardless of what pact have been made previously—will respect NMU lines.

SUCH A NEW YORK Harbor stoppage will affect most of the nation. A week's strike would clog New York rail depots as well as its docks.

It would not be long before the Association of American Railroads would slap an embargo on all freight shipments into New York's sprawling global transhipment points, as well as freight destined for distribution in the vast metro politan area.

If the railroads attempted to divert their freight to other (Mexican) Gulf or Atlantic ports, NMU picket lines would follow the freight.

Depots as far back as Pittsburgh, Chicago, St. Louis and perhaps on the West Coast would be clogged soon enough, if the rail roads decided to make a fight of it. Such a stoppage could cost upward of $20 million a day.

Of course, there could always be a compromise. Look at what happened when the teamsters quietly set a precedent for a handful of oilers on the troubled tugs.

Religious Issue Revived

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Federal Funds Urged for Catholic Schools

Nearly $10 billion dollars for education — for schools and colleges, for buildings, for teachers' salaries — that's what a task force has recommended to President-elect Kennedy as an over-all program to be carried out in the next five years.

This recommendation unwittingly raises certain aspects of the so-called religious issue that came up in the last presidential campaign.

Cardinal Spellman has been quick to protest publicly that Catholic schools must not be excluded from receiving federal funds.

For who is going to furnish all this money? The answer is: Taxpayers of every religious faith and of every race and color.

The use of federal funds to help build a school or to help poor students get an education or to help pay teachers' salaries is regarded today as constitutional but the civil rights commission, in its latest reports, recommends that "no federal agency or official shall be given power to direct, supervise or control the administration, curriculum or personnel of an institution operated and maintained by a state or a political subdivision thereof."

If that's the case and the federal government is to furnish money without interfering with what is actually taught in the educational institutions of the country, then why should any private schools be discriminated against and deprived of public funds?

Cardinal Spellman says in a public statement:

"It is unthinkable that any American child be denied the federal funds allotted to other children which are necessary for his mental development because his parents choose for him a God-centered education."

To me, it is unthinkable that Congress would deny a child funds to study mathematics, science and languages simply because his parents supply additional funds for the study of religion. This would be penalizing both the child and his parents because of their religious beliefs. . . .

"For many millions of American parents, this means that they will be taxed more than ever before for the education of their children but they cannot expect any return from their taxes unless they are willing to transfer their children to a public grade or high school."

THE CARDINAL goes on to say that he cannot believe Congress will "use economic compulsion to force parents to relinquish their right to have religion taught to their children."

He declares that any program of federal aid should grant "equal educational privileges regardless of the school they attend" and that the proposals of the task force "are blatantly discriminating" against church-related school children and their parents.

He says it would deprive them of "freedom of mind and freedom of religion guaranteed by our country's Constitution, whose first amendment was adopted to protect the individual person from government repression — the very danger implicit in the proposed program of the task force."

The Cardinal refers to the 6,800,000 children now in parochial and private schools and says that, if Congress adopts the program, it will be engaging in "thought control."

Now it so happens that, on the same day the Cardinal was speaking, the Board of Regents of New York State announced that it had recommended to Gov. Rockefeller a plan whereby $18,200,000 a year would be given by the state to private colleges and universities to help them expand.

To bypass constitutional difficulties about granting aid to private institutions which teach religious subjects, the plan would award $200 a year to each college student personally, as a sort of scholarship.

KENNEDY SAID during the last campaign: "federal aid should only go to public schools. The principle of church-state separation precludes aid to parochial schools and private schools enjoy the abundant resources of private enterprise."

Mr. Kennedy may not venture to back away from that position for fear of criticism but it raises a question of whether, if Mr. Nixon had been elected president, he might have urged the action that New York State now is considering.

The principle is just the same as that adopted by Congress in providing the funds for education to veterans of World War II and the Korean War under the "GI Bill of Rights." The grants are allotted to the individuals, and they pay the money directly to the school of their choice, which can be a public, a private or a church-related institution as long as it meets prescribed academic requirements.

Cardinal Spellman, in his speech, says that under a law passed in 1952 federal funds went to students who used them in 474 Protestant, 265 Catholic and 5 Jewish institutions of higher learning.

Also, he points out, under a 1956 law, Congress provides for direct grants to students whose fathers died as a result of the second World War or the Korean conflict and many now use the money to pay tuition in church-related colleges.

It makes one wonder whether a president who is not a Catholic is able to do more for the parents of Catholic pupils than Mr. Kennedy may wish to do. If so, the "religious issue" will have backfired in all directions.

Matter of Fact

Most courts today have more cases than they can try. But the Court of Chivalry in England is gathering dust. No cases were brought before the court from 1737 to 1954. Finally, in 1954, the city fathers of Manchester rose up in chivalrous wrath and filed suit against the Manchester Palace of Varieties for improper use of the city's coat of arms. The Palace is an amusement house.

The supporters of the first lady presidential nominee weren't very optimistic. In 1872 the National Radical Reformers put up Mrs. Victoria Claflin Woodhull for president. Her supporters didn't bother with her legal qualifications. A president must be 35, and her birthday fell six months after inauguration.

Presidential electors once voted for a dead man, Horace Greeley died shortly after the general election of 1872. When the Electoral pledged to Greeley transferred to other men but their loyal supporters stood by the great abolitionist—even in death—through the votes weren't counted.

Wittenberg Presses Dayton Flyers But Loses 46-45

Tigers Drop Tilt At Foul Stripe

Dan Krichbaum and Wooster Scots Rally to Defeat Bluffton, 83-73

By The Associated Press
Wittenberg has the best defensive record of any college basketball team in the nation. The Tigers, with their control ball play, have allowed their opponents an average of only 4 points a game. This has worked out fine in the Ohio Conference where Wittenberg leads the loop with a 6-0 record. And Thursday night, in a non-conference fray, the Tigers again held their opponent to under 47 points. They even outscored Dayton's Flyers 19 field goals to 14. Only trouble was—they lost, 46-45. What happened? Well, it seems the control-ball

Tigers couldn't get control of the ball enough times to suit them. This is not to say they didn't try. They tried so hard, in fact, they committed 20 personal fouls. This gave the Flyers 2 shots from the foul line and they converted on 18 of them. And this was the difference. Wittenberg got only 15 shots from the charity line and made just seven. The Tigers were so anxious to get that ball they fouled Dayton's Phil Dubensky three times in the last few minutes of the game. The first time, Dubensky hit the hoop and put Dayton ahead for good, 42-41. Fouled again, Dubensky made the 1-and-1 and the Flyers took a 44-41 edge. Don Wolfe, Wittenberg's high scorer with 14 points, hit a field goal to narrow the gap to 44-43. Then came another foul against Dubensky—the Flyers' top man with 16 points—and again he made both charity tosses to give Dayton a 46-43 lead.

Dubensky, incidentally, played all but the first minute of the second half with four personal fouls against him. In the only other game on the Ohio college cage scene, it was something of the same story. Wooster's Scots were out-gunned 33-32 by Bluffton but rang up 19 of 28 from the free throw line to the Beavers' 7 of 11. The Scots, tied 34-all at intermission, fell behind early in the second half, pulled even at 65-65 and broke away in the last 6½ minutes to register their eighth victory in 10 starts, 83-73.

Robinson Fight With Fullmer Postponed

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Sugar Ray Robinson, who has a long record of title fight postponements, is getting another one.

Robinson's 15-round bout here with NBA middleweight champion Gene Fullmer, scheduled for Feb. 25, was re-set Thursday for March 4.

Promoters Jack Doyle and Mel Greb said Robinson was unable to get started with his training because of two court actions in the East. In recent weeks Robinson has been involved in a paternity suit brought by a New York woman. Thursday he won a federal court decision over Nicholas Troilo, who sued Sugar Ray for $75,000, charging he reneged on an agreement to fight Fullmer in 1956 under Troilo's promotion.

Robinson is scheduled to fly from New York to Los Angeles Saturday, then go to his training camp at San Jacinto, where he worked for his Dec. 3 bout with Fullmer. That one ended in a draw.

Northwestern, MSU Tilt To Be Televised

By The Associated Press
Northwestern and Michigan State, struggling in the Big Ten's second division, will be served on Saturday's regional basketball television fare. Main interest, as far as the championship race is concerned, will be Iowa's test at Purdue. Minnesota (1-2) is at Ohio State (2-0) in the only other conference game. Iowa, ranked No. 4 in the Associated Press national poll, has been beaten only once all season and has a 4-0 mark in the Big Ten. Two of its players are among the top ten league scorers—Don Nelson with an 18 point average and Frank Allen with 16.5.

Industrial-Mining Cops First Round In Slo-Break Loop

Industrial Mining wrapped up the first round title by trouncing second place Salem Auto, 43-26 and Sekely-Jaycees waited until the last game of the round to win its first game, 27-21, over Hunt's Independent Union as the first half of the Salem Slo-Break League basketball season came to a close at the Memorial Building.

The defeat for Salem Auto eliminated its chance to tie Industrial Mining for the title. Phil Wenner burned the nets for 20 points in the champions' win over Salem Auto. Rich Youngpeter was high man for the losers with seven markers.

Homer Haldeman's 10 points and Willie Baker's seven markers paced the Sekely-Jaycees quintet to its first win of the season. Solmen notched eight for Hunt's.

Purdue also is undefeated in the Big Ten and seeks its third triumph. The Boiler-makers' Terry Dischinger leads conference scorers with 35 points a game. He has a gashed middle finger on his right hand from a chemistry lab mishap and his scoring touch may suffer.

Northwestern takes a 0-3 mark to Michigan State, 1-3, for the afternoon TV encounter. The Spartans will have three rookies on the front line, led by 6-7 Ted Williams and Dick Hall. Ralph Wells, a junior, is Northwestern's top scorer with a 14 average.

First-ranked Ohio State, the only major unbeaten team of the season, will be heavily favored over Minnesota. Jerry Lucas, the Buckeye's All-American, is second in league sharpshooting with a 32.5 in two games. He has a bad ankle, but may be used full time if needed. Teammate Larry Siegfried also is among the top ten with 16 points a game.

Heading the Gophers are Dick Erickson with 10.6 and Bob Griggs with 10.3.

Ohio State Seeks 18th Straight Home Court Win Saturday

The Number "18." will come up twice Saturday night in St. John Arena when Ohio State's basketball team meets the Minnesota Gophers.

Coach Fred Taylor's Big Ten and NCAA champs have won 17 in a row over two seasons and likewise hold a 17-game winning streak on the home court. The Buckeyes finished the 1959-60 season with five straight and now have won 12 in a row this year. The home floor streak includes all 12 games last year and St. Louis, Army, Detroit, Illinois and Evansville this season. The last home loss was to Purdue 93 to 87 on March 7, 1959.

Captain Larry Siegfried has shot 25 consecutive free throws, starting with St. Bonaventure, 4 for 4 Illinois, 12-12 Evansville, 7-7 and Northwestern, 2-2. Jerry Lucas faltered 25 in a row last season to set a new university record, now tied by Siegfried.

Lucas has scored 293 points for an average of 26.6. Siegfried's average is 15.3, followed by John Havlicek with 13.9 and Mel Nowell with 12.3. Team-wise, the squad has averaged 86.9 to the opponents' 64.7. Lucas' field goal shooting percentage is .635 and his free throw mark is .828. Siegfried's free throw average is .883 which is Number eight nationally.

Class A Playoff Tilt Thursday

Old Dutch, Herron's Clash for Title

Old Dutch and Herron Transfer will settle the first round championship in the Salem Class A basketball league Thursday when they meet in a playoff tilt at 8 p.m. in the Memorial Building.

Both teams wound up the round with 8-1 records. Herron's only setback was a 58-55 licking at the hands of Salem Stamping in their opener. Old Dutch was defeated by Herron's, 60-47, for its only loss.

Monday's and Wednesday's games next week will be second round contests. In a 10 p.m. tilt Monday, Herron's will get a chance to avenge its only defeat when it tangles with Salem Stamping. The first round scoring champion was Herron's Dean Nicholson who wound up with 200 points for nine games. His average was 22.2. His nearest rival, Ed Daugherty of Beall's, peppered the hoops for 189 points and a 21 point average.

Bill Pauline of Salem Stamping closed with a rush and finished number three in scoring. Pauline tallied a total of 55 points in his last two frays. He notched '64 markers for a 18.2 average.

Ray Bluth Headed For Bowling Crown

SAN BERNARDINO, Calif. (AP)—Ray Bluth, who lost the 1959 All-Star Bowling Championship in the 100th and final game, appears determined to avenge that disappointment this year.

The St. Louis star was more than five Petersen points ahead of runner-up Dick Weber today going into the second half of the four-day finals of the 1961 event. During the first two days, Bluth won 22, lost 9 and tied 1 game while averaging more than 210 per game.

Potters Reject Hoople; Old Boy Visits D.C.

By DICK BRAUTIGAM
Egad, friends, the East Liverpool Potters must be loaded this year. Hoople flunked his tryout! We got a glimpse of him on TV today (just to the left of Harry Truman) at the inauguration in Washington.

The old boys were really living it up — Hoople on his unemployment check and Harry on his pi-ano lesson money.

Even without Hoople we managed to improve our prediction record on area cage games this week to 64 right and 11 wrong. Actually, the best thing about Hoople's leaving is that he took his smelly cigar with him. One more cigar smoker and a pipe chewer to go and we'll have this place fumigated.

Here is the way things look on the high school front this weekend:

Bink Washington poured in 26 points to lead the way for Coach Tom Cope's Salem Freshmen as they captured their ninth win by tromping Alliance State St., 85-61 at Salem Thursday.

The Quakers are now 9-2 on the season. Salem was in command throughout the encounter as they held quarter scores of 23-7, 48-20 and 64-48.

The Quakers were a hot ball club in the first half drilling in 20 of 32 shots from the field. Salem canned 11 of 19 in the first period and dropped in nine of 13 in the second. Both teams employed a full court press with a free scoring game as the result. Washington rang up his total of 26 markers in little over half a game.

Taking second place for the Quakers in the scoring department was George Begalla with five fielders and five fouls for 15 tallies. Begalla topped the Salem rebounders with 10.

Salem connected 57 per cent of its field goal attempts while State St. meshed 32 per cent of its shots. Both teams scored on 19 of 30 from the foul stripe for a percentage of 63.3.

WEST BRANCH PLAYS EARLY

Tipoff time for the West Branch North Lima Reserve basketball game Saturday at North Lima will be 6:15 p.m. The varsity battle will follow at approximately 7:30.

Zippers ought to be able to fasten that up a little this time.
Canfield 55, West Branch 53: Our West Branch expert, Bob Julian, says the Warriors will win it. West Branch is undefeated while Canfield has dropped four games, including a close one on the West Branch court. If the Warriors get by this one, only Wells-ville and Beaver Local have a chance of pressing them. Unde-feated seasons just don't happen around here. Besides, Julian is prejudiced. We'll take Canfield in a close one.

Minerva 79, Lisbon 40: Can't somebody stop this slaughter?
Poland 58, Louisville 46: These boys have come a long way for this game. Hoople says let 'em win one.

East Palestine 53, Sebring 53: The Trojans have the flu bug. Coach Ray Schaefer says he may have to call on his managers, coaches and cheerleaders to come up with a starting five. These co-ed combinations have been tried before and found lacking.

Columbiana 67, Leetonia 57: Gary Perkins is still on crutches which means that he probably won't be up to full speed. The Clippers won't need him tonight for this one.

Salem 75, Niles 51: We've under-scored the Quakers' point total for the last three games. The Red Dragons have won just one game but have played their best ball against the stronger teams. We would pick the Quakers to break a hundred but we don't think Coach Cabas is that mad any more at Niles or their previous superintendant.

East Liverpool 67, Steubenville Central Catholic 59: We picked the Potters over Ashland last week, and they lost by 20 points. To show that there are no hard feelings, we'll give them another chance. Har-rumph!

Salineville 55, United 49: In the days of Summer, Shagnot and Blanchard, who would have thought the Golden Eagles would some day be an underdog to Salineville. A victory for United though could hardly be called an upset.

Ravenna 78, Warren St. Mary's 41: These Ravenna boys can shoot. St. Mary's is in a different league.

McDonald 63, Southington 54: The Blue Devils look like the class of the Inter-County League.

Fairfield-Waterford 59, Lowellville 50: A real feather in the cap of Coach Bing Newton and the Rebels.

Newell 65, Beaver Local 61: Newell handed the Beavers their first loss of the season by a 72-58 score. It won't be quite so easy this time.

Mineral Ridge 59, Western Reserve 43: The Blue Devils gave North Lima a good game last week. They may be coming around after a slow start. Really slow!

SATURDAY
Canfield 68, McDonald 55: Two good teams in their class. Just a case of McDonald stepping out of its league.

Minerva 63, East Palestine 58: The Lions just can't go undefeated in the Tri-County League again this year. But, they aren't likely to lose on their home court — to the Bulldogs or anyone else.

Columbiana 63, Poland 59: If Perkins isn't ready to go, the Clippers could be in trouble. Columbiana may be able to handle Minerva in their return clash. However, a loss to Poland probably would keep them out of a share of the league title anyway.

Louisville 60, Leetonia 56: We kicked the crystal ball three times and it still came up Louisville.

Sebring 58, Lisbon 41: Maybe co-ed basketball WILL work in this case.

West Branch 69, North Lima 50: The Zips will wish they could play Western Reserve again after they get a look at the Warriors.

Youngstown North 61, Warren St. Mary's 40: What are these Youngs-town schools doing — de-emphasizing?

Beaver Local 64, United 57: Too much rivalry for a walkaway.

Lowellville 65, Springfield Local 48: The Rockets did it by 18 points earlier in the season. This one will fatten our average.

Mineral Ridge 63, Jackson-Milton 35: This type of game takes the fun out of predicting.

Atwater 61, Western Reserve 55: Ever consider how it would feel to cheer for a team with a 1-8 record?

Cards Six-Under-Par 66 In First Round

Bob Golby Takes One-Stroke Lead in Bing Crosby Tourney

By JACK STEVENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer
PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (AP)—Husky Bob Golby swung into today's second round of the $50,000 Bing Crosby golf tournament with a one-stroke lead and a string of six straight subpar holes. The 29-year-old former University of Illinois football player fired five birdies and an eagle as the windup to his first round.

That brought him the lead with a six-under-par 66. Right behind him at 67 were defending champion Ken Venturi, Howie Johnson, Dave Hill and Bill Collins.

Deadlocked at 68 were Jack Burke, Jerry Barber, Dave Ragan, and at 69 were Dick Strahan, Sam Reynolds, Dow Finsterwald, Lionel Hebert, Al Balding, Walter Burkemo, Ted Kroll and Bob Rosburg.

Warm sunny, windless weather provided the chance for low scores and no less than 39 fired sub-par first rounds.

Golby, one-over-par through the first 12 holes, said, "I was just trying to shoot 70. I figured that was about the best I could do."

Playing the Monterey Peninsula course, he had missed the greens at the fourth, seventh, and tenth holes.

Leading in the pro-am after the first round were two teams with best-ball scores of 60 — Dow Finsterwald and Fred Kammer of Grosse Pointe Farms, Mich., and Jack Burke with George Coleman

Jr., of Palm Beach, Fla. The amateur's handicaps are figured in the pro-amateur scoring.

Venturi, of Palo Alto, Calif., and Collins, who plays out of Crystal River, Fla., shot their opening 67s at Pebble Beach generally considered the toughest of the three layouts. Hill, former Michigan amateur star now a pro living in Denver, played Monterey Peninsula while Johnson, of Coghill, Ill., shot at Cypress Point.

Arnold Palmer, golfer-of-the-year in 1960 and winner of last week's San Diego Open, kept in contention with a first round 70.

McKinley, Prospect Cop 2nd Straight In Mickey McGuire

Prospect dumped St. Paul, 18-9, and McKinley overpowered Buckeye 34-8, to keep on the victory trail while Fourth Street racked up its initial win in Mickey McGuire League action with a 29-16 triumph over defending champion Reilly.

Prospect ran into a stubborn St. Paul five before winning its second. The tilt was knotted at the first period, 2-2, and then Prospect moved out to a 5-4 halftime margin.

The game was still close in the third quarter with St. Paul dropping behind, 9-7. In the final canto the roof caved in on St. Paul as Prospect meshed nine tallies while holding St. Paul to only two markers.

CHUCK MONTGOMERY scored six points to pace Prospect and John Paul Tolson netted four for St. Paul.

McKinley led from the opening jump in its game with Buckeye as it grabbed a 12-0 first period margin and increased it to 26-4 at intermission.

The second half was a low scoring two periods as McKinley pumped in only eight points and Buckeye dropped in but four.

Wagner flipped in 16 markers to feature for McKinley and Craig was high man for Buckeye with six of the eight points.

FOURTH ST. had little trouble with Reilly after a three point margin in the first canto, 6-3. In the second period Fourth St. hit for eight points and Reilly meshed six as Fourth St. held a 14-9 halftime lead.

The third quarter saw Fourth St. pepper the hoops for 13 tallies while Reilly found the range three times. In the final stanza Fourth St. canned only two points and Reilly hit for four.

Steve Papi drilled in 14 points to lead the Fourth St. attack and Shilling accounted for 11 markers in the Reilly offense.

Seventh Grade Wins Ninth In Row; Eighth Grade Victor

Salem's 7th Grade rolled to its ninth straight win without a loss by blasting Alliance State St., 34-17, and Salem's 8th Grade copped its fourth win in nine outings by trimming the Alliance 8th Graders, 24-20 in cage games played Thursday at Alliance.

The Quaker 7th Graders were led to victory by Chappell and Klepper with 11 and 10 markers, respectively. Salem held quarter scores of 10-3, 24-8 and 31-11.

Lorain Head Coaches Moved to King High

LORAIN, Ohio (AP) — Tony Misko and Al McConihe, head football and basketball coaches, respectively, at Lorain High School, will perform the same jobs for new Alliance King High this fall.

The switch by the school board reversed Supt. John W. Evans' recommendation that they remain at Lorain, and their head assistants take the King posts. The new ruling means Misko's line coach, Chuck Urbanic, gets the head grid job at Lorain and Lorain's reserve cage coach, Angelo Bangas, moves into McConihe's spot at Lorain High.

In Misko's first year as Steele coach in 1960 his team's record was 4-4-1. He had been line coach at Lorain for 11 seasons.

McConihe, in his seventh year as Steele cage mentor, has suffered only one losing season.

Bangas is in his seventh season as reserve coach. Urbanic came out of coaching retirement to assist Misko last year.

King's opening in September will slice Lorain's 2,200 enrollment approximately in half. Both teams will play in the Buckeye Conference.

Four More Indians Sign '61 Contracts

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Indians today received four more signed contracts for the 1961 baseball season, including those from slugger shortstop Woodie Held and catcher John Romano.

Other signers were pitcher Mike Lee and catcher Valmy Thomas, bringing to 24 those in the Indians' fold.

Despite being out of action for six weeks late in July and August with a fractured finger, Held led the 1960 club in homers with 21. He had a .258 batting mark and 67 runs batted in, in 109 games.

Romano, installed as regular catcher after Jimmie Dykes became manager, appeared in 108 games. He had a .272 batting average and drove in 52 runs. His 16 home runs established a team record for a season by a catcher.

Thomas was drafted in November as a second-string receiver behind Romano. He played previously in the majors with the San Francisco Giants and Baltimore Orioles. Lee is a 19-year-old left-hander who was drafted in 1959 from the Giants' organization. He appeared in only seven games and pitched nine innings for Cleveland in 1960.

Ingo, Patterson Sign for Bout

Will Meet March 13 At Miami Beach

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Ingemar Johansson is looking for a training camp in Florida and Floyd Patterson is ready to begin bearing down at his Spring Valley, N.Y., quarters now that the financial details for their March 13 fight in Miami Beach have been settled.

Johansson and Patterson signed an agreement Thursday to box for the third time in the Convention Hall at Miami Beach, having already entered into satisfactory agreements with Feature Sports, Inc., the promoters. Each signed for himself.

The agreements call for Patterson and Johansson each to get 25 per cent of the live fight gate. After the closed circuit TV firm takes its cut, Patterson will get 50 per cent, Johansson 35 per cent and Feature Sports 15 per cent of the ancillary rights to theater TV, movies, radio and so on.

Roy Cohn, a director of Feature Sports, predicted the fight would gross $5 million from all sources. Their second fight last June 20 brought in close to $3.5 million. He said the advance ticket orders were about $237,000 and pointed out that the radio rights, sold for some $300,000, brought almost twice as much as the rights for their last bout.

Johansson optimistically figured his end would be about $1 million and Patterson, more conservative, guessed his gross would be around $800,000.

One complication that had held up the actual signing for the fight, announced before Christmas, was Patterson's insistence that there be no segregation at the arena. He had both verbal and written assurance from the city of Miami Beach, plus a $10,000 bond deposited by the promoters to guarantee it.

Six Ohio U. Gridders Have Signed With Pros

ATHENS, Ohio (AP)—Six of the seven starting seniors on the Ohio University football team, ranked No. 1 nationally among smaller colleges in the Associated Press poll, have now signed pro contracts. The three latest:

Halfback Bob Harrison of St. Louis, Mo., will have a tryout with the Baltimore Colts, end Jim Massarelli of New Philadelphia with Toronto of the Canadian League, and George Belu of Lorain, a placekicking end, with Ottawa.

Columbiana Legion Post Wins 4 Awards

COLUMBIANA — American Legion Post 290, cited as one of the most outstanding units in the state in membership and activities, has captured four awards from the 10th Ohio Legion district — more than any other comparatively-sized post in the district, Commander Albert Hayes has announced.

Post 290 has been awarded the district membership trophy for having the highest membership percentage regained on Nov. 11, another trophy for showing the best membership report in the District on Dec. 31, a quota plaque for achieving its 1961 goal by the start of the new year, and the Ohio department 100 per cent quota emblem. The post currently has 255 members.

THE COLUMBIANA HIGH School athletic department has announced it has been presented with a 16 millimeter movie camera and a projector for use in filming and showing football and basketball games. Valued at about $360, the equipment represents a combined contribution of the Union Banking Co., Theron's IGA Market and R. J. Barrow.

RESERVATIONS are asked by no later than next Friday, Jan. 27, for the annual Towasi Circle birthday dinner, to be held Wednesday, Feb. 1, at 6:30 p.m. at the First Presbyterian Church.

Reservations should be phoned to Mrs. Hayes Armbrust, or Mrs. Lee Bookwalter.

The Rev. W. S. Longworth of the First Methodist Church and the Rev. Harold W. Thiedt of the Grace United Church of Christ are scheduled to attend the Ohio Pastors Convention next week in Columbus.

Preliminary plans for organization of a group of local boating enthusiasts into the Boat and Ski Club were made at a meeting of 12 couples last week at the home of Dick Richardson on E. Park Ave.

Aim of the group is to hold periodic meetings and plan boating and water skiing parties in the summer. Next meeting will be on Feb. 8 at 8 p.m. in Pavilion 4 at Firestone Park.

Mr. and Mrs. William McGuckin and family of Court St. have returned home from a three-week stay in Florida.

Mrs. Harvey Royer has returned home after spending several weeks with her son Chester in Washington, D.C.

A FAREWELL PARTY was held recently for Mrs. Richard Sponseller and daughters Lynn and Nancy, at the home of Mrs. Olive Toot of Court St. Mrs. Sponseller and daughters left by plane on Wednesday for their new home in Denver, Colo., where Mr. Sponseller is service manager for the Diebold Safe and Lock Co.

Funeral services for Mrs. C. S. McGrath were held Wednesday. She was the wife of the Rev. C. S. McGrath, former local Presbyterian minister, now retired and living in Wooster.

Surviving besides her husband are children, Mrs. Robert Esterly of Columbiana, Hiram of Mansfield, and Mrs. Roy Paney and Mrs. Lucille Marshall, both of Columbus.

A Salem man was injured and two drivers were cited following separate two-car accidents in the city this morning.

John Elwonger, 43, of 328½ E. State St., a passenger in a car operated by William Ressler, 40, of Western Reserve Rd., Canfield, received a back injury when their car collided with a station wagon at the intersection of S. Broadway and Columbia St. at 9:50 a.m. Elwonger went to the Central Clinic for treatment.

Police said Ressler failed to stop at the intersection and ran into the station wagon, operated by Joseph P. Janovec, 38, of 264 Woodland Ave. Ressler was cited for driving while intoxicated. The front ends of both vehicles were demolished.

Glenn Alvin Willis, 17, of RD 1, East Rochester, was cited for failure to obey a traffic light after his car collided with another at the intersection of S. Ellsworth Ave. and Mill St. at 10:25 this morning.

Police said Willis' windshield was frosty and he did not see the red light. Gene Cline, 35, of RD 4, Lisbon, was the driver of the other car involved.

York's traffic situation, already seriously affected by a railroad tieup which hit some 100,000 commuters.

As the storm raged in New York, a four-engine jet airliner crashed on takeoff from Idlewild International Airport. It appeared that all but four of the 106 persons aboard the plane, en route to Mexico, escaped death.

In Washington, harried officials sent out an army of men to clear the snow-clogged streets. They concentrated on first getting clear Pennsylvania Avenue for today's big parade to the White House from the Capitol for the inauguration of President-elect John F. Kennedy.

Thousands of cars were stranded in the storm belt. The National Airport in Washington closed down Thursday night and air flights in New York City and many other Eastern cities were curtailed or canceled.

Harrisburg, Pa., was one of the cities hardest hit by the storm. An estimated 18 inches of snow fell in the capital city. Snowfall in Philadelphia measured about 7 inches, about the same as in Pittsburgh.

Falls of up to 8 inches was in prospect in southern New England, 3 to 6 inches in northern areas.

Eisenhower's Son Gets Decoration

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army pinned the Legion of Merit on Lt. Col. John Eisenhower today, telling the son of the President that he has done "illustrious service" as a White House staff officer.

Secretary Wilber M. Brucker, in making the award on behalf of the President, told young Eisenhower that "it isn't very often that a man with an illustrious father, overshadowed by that," can so well carry out his own career.

The colonel's mother, his wife and his daughter, Anne, 11, attended the ceremony.

Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower told Brucker: "I'm sorry that his father couldn't have been here." The President was meeting with President-elect John F. Kennedy at the White House.

erations of the skull and a sprained back; Mrs. Burns, lacerations of the lower lip and contusions of the left arm and jaw and a passenger in the Burns auto, Mrs. Lillian Ruskha, 53, of Lakewood, who received contusions of the right chest.

All were treated at South Side Hospital.

Collide Near E. Palestine

In other accidents reported by the State Patrol, Ralph R. Moore, 46, of RD 1, Salem, and Harold L. Fleeson, 45, of East Palestine collided at 3:10 p.m. on Rt. 14 near East Palestine when Fleeson attempted to pass another vehicle, slid and was struck by Moore broadside.

Both Moore and Fleeson were injured in the accident. Moore suffered contusions of the right knee and lacerations of the left knee and was treated and released at the Salem Central Clinic. Fleeson received fractured ribs on the right side and contusions of the right upper abdomen. He is in fairly good condition at the Salem City Hospital.

Fleeson was cited for going left of center.

Salem Man Injured

Eddie R. Linger, 24, of 186 E. 6th St. lost control of his auto on a curve one and a half miles east of Salem on Alternate Rt. 14 at 10:55 p.m. He received lacerations of the face and possible rib fractures when he slid off the road and struck a utility pole, the Patrol said.

Linger is in fairly good condition at Salem City Hospital.

Mary Roberta Thirion, 39, of RD 1, Lisbon, driving a pick-up truck, was struck by an auto operated by Gary Stewart Merriman, 19, of RD 1, Salineville, one and a half miles south of Lisbon on Rt. 164 at 9:25 p.m.

Mrs. Thirion was attempting to make a left turn into a private drive when Merriman could not stop, skidded left of center and slid into the Thirion truck.

Charles Merriman, Jr., 21, of RD 1, Salineville, a passenger in the Merriman auto received a bruised right arm.

Merriman was cited for reckless operation, the Patrol said.

Edmund Paul Morgan, 21, of RD 3, Salineville, operating a milk truck, and Ralph Hall, 68, of 27 N. Main St., Columbiana, collided at the intersection of Hull Rd. and Laughlin Rd. east of Summitville at 9:45 p.m.

Hall pulled out onto Hull Rd. into the path of Morgan, the Patrol said. Hall was cited for failure to yield the right of way.

Autos driven by Ernest A. Schneider, 55, of Salineville and Loretta Grimm, 33, of Salineville, collided at 4:30 p.m., a half-mile northeast of Salineville on Rt. 39.

Schneider was cited for failure to stop in the assured clear distance, the State Patrol reported.

Charles C. Schmidt, 49, of Alliance struck a guard rail on Rt. 644 near Millport at 4:10 p.m., the Patrol said.

Schmidt lost control of his auto and then it ran off the east side of the road and then veered back to the west side of the road, hitting the guard rail and going over an embankment.

Kennedy

ing to witness or permit the slow undoing of those human rights to which this nation has always been committed, and to which we are committed today."

Kennedy stood bareheaded as he delivered his inaugural address from the open, windswept stand on the east side of the Capitol Building.

Harried inaugural officials were hoping other events — the big parade down Pennsylvania Avenue, the huge inaugural ball to-night — would also go on as scheduled, especially since no more snow was forecast.

Kennedy was undaunted by the storm and told newsmen he thought the snow would "add extra zip."

But inaugural officials still were shaken by Thursday night's experiences when a snowstorm brought the city almost to a standstill and put an icy grip on the pre-inauguration fun.

The eight-inch snow, whipped by winds of more than 20 miles an hour, hit this place when it was already bursting at the seams with celebrating Democrats.

Cars were inching along, when they moved at all. Batteries went dead. Gas tanks ran dry.

Men and women, dressed in their evening finery, were spotted trying to push stalled cars.

Street cars lined up front to back, unable to budge.

Many of those who live in nearby Virginia and Maryland found themselves stranded in Washington, with all hotel rooms taken.

Many who had planned to fly into Washington found the National Airport closed down. Among those in this plight was former President Herbert Hoover, who returned to Florida because his plane couldn't land.

Kennedy and the man who becomes his vice president, Lyndon B. Johnson, managed to get to both of Thursday night's major events, the symphony concert and the 100-a-ticket Democratic Gala.

Mrs. Kennedy left the gala at the intermission. Kennedy stayed through the entire performance, then went to a downtown restaurant with friends. He remained until after 3 a.m.

Kennedy planned to attend Mass at 9 a.m. today at the Holy Trinity church in Georgetown, his parish church.

Although all seats were sold long ago, only a sparse crowd showed up. But it gave Kennedy and his wife, Jacqueline, a big hand.

There were more problems at the gala, where singer Frank Sinatra had lined up an all-star show. The program didn't begin until 10:40, an hour and 40 minutes late, and even with latecomers still straggling in, the big armory was only about half filled.

Although snow removal equipment worked steadily in an effort to improve driving conditions, the size of the crowds was expected to be sharply curtailed where. The best the weatherman could predict was a windy 32 degrees.

Nearly every important political figure in America has come to see this quiet but still dramatic shift of presidential power—governors, senators, representatives, Supreme Court justices, new Cabinet members.

Although Hoover couldn't make it, two of the other three men who have held the office, Harry S. Truman and Dwight D. Eisenhower, are here.

New York's Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller canceled his plans to come because of the New York rail strike situation.

Watching the curious customs of this country are the representatives of other nations, some friendly, some not so friendly, some unfriendly and knowing well they're a major part of the problem with which Kennedy must wrestle.

Damascus Ruritans Attend Meeting

Seventeen members of the Damascus Ruritan Club attended the Zone One meeting at Greenford High School Thursday night. Ohio District Governor James Baxter opened the meeting, and the invocation was given by Rev. Douglas Jones of the newly organized Deerfield Ruritan Club. Total attendance was 67.

William Eshelman, lieutenant governor of Zone One, commented on the district governor's contest and reports.

Dale Hileman, president of the Damascus Ruritan Club, spoke on methods of finance. Samuel Thomas of the Greenford Club, spoke on service projects.

The Ohio District secretary, William Ferguson, talked about reports and announcements of meetings through the newspapers. William Eshelman commented on expansion of membership and James Snyder spoke on programs.

An expansion meeting was announced for Feb. 9 at Damascus. Mr. Baxter outlined the national convention and announced goals for the Ohio District.

Railroad

40,000 commuters on the Central and 30,000 on the Pennsylvania. Also hit are 30,000 New Jersey-Manhattan commuters who used railroad ferriesboats.

Heavy economic losses are being suffered in the area.

Railroad workers are not on strike. The vast tieup spawned from a strike by 664 crewmen of tugboats and ferriesboats of 11 railroads that operate in the harbor. They are members of three marine unions.

Employees of the New York Central and New Haven railroads have refused to cross the thin picket lines of the strikers. As the picketing spread the rail tieup grew.

A job security clause for a new contract is the principal issue in the dispute.

Most bowling proprietors will not permit bowling in street shoes, but will allow bare foot bowling. If you are right handed, glue a pot holder on the ball of your left foot to facilitate sliding and protect you against splinters which smart. If you are left handed, lots of luck.
